The American evangelists who have been holding the great revival in London declare that the success of the mission has exceeded their most sanguine expectations. Over a thousand converts, they say, have publicly professed religion and thousands more have privately acknowledged the spirit.

A German expert on gymnastics announces that one need not go to a well-equipped gymnasium in search of a course in health-giving exercises. Deep yawning practiced as a regular exercise is the cheapest and surest road to perfect health. We are still familiar with the theory that systematic deep breathing is an excellent thing for the lungs, and it is on similar grounds that yawning is recommended. The expansion of the breast bones and the stretching of the arms which accompany a whole-hearted yawn, together with the filling of the lungs, form a splendid daily exercise.

The boy began on cigarettes; They made him very pale; And then he read dime novelettes, And now he is in jail. —Chicago Chronicle.

HUSTONVILLE.

Remember the horse show here Saturday, April 8th. A large crowd will be in attendance.

W. G. Cowan bought a pair of fine mules from J. Bishop for $350, a gelding from Ben Ferrell for $125 and a cow and calf for $45.

Miss Ellen Powers, who for some time has been in the throes of grip, is much better and will reopen her dress-making rooms in the "Ark" April 1st.

Mrs. Charles Wheeler has returned from the cities, where she has been selecting from the latest imported spring millinery designs of Dams Fashion for an elaborate opening on April 6th.

The Bert Marshall Comedy and Minstrel Co. will hold the boards at Alcorn's Opera House next Friday and Saturday nights at popular prices. This company comes highly recommended.

Mrs. Wm. Myers is having the rooms opposite Hotel Weatherford reopened and painted preparatory to opening a new stock of spring and summer millinery, which includes the handwork of the most proficient artists.

The drawings for the new graded school building are about completed and are remarkable for comfort, convenience, ventilation, light and general adaptability for teachers and pupils.

The cost of the building will not exceed $3,500 and the trustees will not ask for an increase of tax as the 30 cents now paid will be sufficient to pay the debt and interest in 15 years or less and not make it a burden on any one.

The immense establishment of J. G. Weatherford & Co. is enjoying a well-deserved patronage. Their buyer in the East has added lines until they have a veritable city department store, the staple line of which includes dry goods, notions, ladies' spring and summer dress goods, furnishing goods, shoes in endless variety, clothing and suits made to order, groceries, tinware, plows. A full and complete line of drugs; prescriptions a specialty. Furniture in endless variety. Corsets, matings, rugs, etc., and the ladies shoe department under the efficient supervision of Miss Julia Stagg. An inspection of this establishment in every department is extended to all.

"A Noble Outcast" was presented at Alcorn's Opera House on last Friday evening by the Stanford home talent company in such a manner as to reflect great credit upon the excellent training the company had received from their manager, Miss Ella May Saunders.

Miss VanDever easily portrayed the characteristic grace, beauty and warm-heartedness for which Southern dames are and have been so famous. Miss Haselden showed power in her portrayal of human character under such trying circumstances. Miss Mobley's part was done in a most realistic manner.

The reading given by Miss Mahony was most artistically done and highly appreciated. The little pianist, Miss Kate Waters, is due the thanks of an appreciative audience for selections rendered as well as for the excellent accompaniments played for the excellent soloist, Mr. Traynor. Col. Lee never seemed more real than Mr. Ballard's personification, and Joe Lynn Coffey's work merits a wider field than that afforded by the local boards. George Florence knows human nature and has the power of presenting it to an audience as he understands it. George Menefee was the right fellow in the right place all the time. Manley Huey manifested a strong nerve and a cold, calculating disposition in his work as policeman. The play was altogether enjoyable and we invite our Stanford friends to come again, but they must remember that the home talent standard is high here at present.

You can rest assured that our Maple Syrup will please your taste. Grid-dle cakes are twice as palatable with a Maple Syrup that is properly prepared and unadulterated. Our Maple Syrup is made from the purest maple sap—many syrups are made by dissolving maple sugar. Syrups made from maple sugar are not the equal of those made directly from sap—the air deteriorates the syrup value when the sap is first made into sugar. If you want the genuine, unadulterated goods, better try ours.
